	January 26, 2008. (Inaudible) for this time, (inaudible).
10	(Inaudible) Counsel, and I scheduled an additional hearing. Let
11	me see I now will advise you of your rights. You have the right
12 13	to remain silent. Anything you say may be used against you. You
14	have the right to your own counsel at your own expense, and you
15	have the right to (inaudible) probable cause in this phase of the
16	proceedings. Do you understand your rights?
17	MS. MIRANDA: Yes.
18	THE COURT: Did you receive the, uh, the
19	affidavit of, of (inaudible - coughing)
20
21	MS. MIRANDA: I'm sorry.
22	THE COURT: filed and the complaint filed in
23	this matter?
24	MS. MIRANDA: Yes.
25	THE COURT: The Court will determine probable cause of the affidavit, and The Court finds that (inaudible) received in this matter will be received without prejudice. In reviewing the affidavit, The Court finds probable cause to believe that you have committed the offenses in counts one, two, three, four, five, six, seven and eight, and the finding that you're guilty of the charges, and that the trial can continue with the prosecution in this matter. We will set arraignment, Monday, February 4th, at 1:30. Arraignment is scheduled for February 4th, 2008, at 1:30 in the afternoon, and we will add this to the conditions of release.

UNIDENTIFIED FEMALE: Your Honor, the Tribe recommends that, excuse me, that Defendant post a two thousand dollar bond, as she has a history of failures to appear within this court from 2005 through 2007. Uh, she also has a history of violence, 2006, uh, which victims were involved. Uhm, therefore, the Tribe does not believe that she may, uhm, abide by The Court's orders if she is released. And also, uh, due to the nature of the offenses involving two alleged victims in this manner and that she, uh, poses a threat to herself as, uh, stated in officer's affidavit.

THE COURT: Ms., uh, Ms. Miranda, do you have anything to say in regards to the conditions for release?

MS. MIRANDA: No.

THE COURT: At this time The Court will set, uhm, eighteen hundred dollars to be posted prior to release. The Court finds that the defendant poses a risk to herself and to the community given the new charges, charges and given a copy of these court papers to appear, if you wish to comply. But there's nothing we would, anyone (inaudible) with his family. And again, the Defendant is to return on February 4th, 2008, at 1:30 in the afternoon. Ms. Miranda, do you have any questions? MS. MIRANDA: No. THE COURT: (Inaudible.) UNIDENTIFIED FEMALE: Alright. Yes, Your Honor. I just wanted to add, uhm, if she does post the fifteen hundred dollar bond, that she have no contact with the minor, uhm, as listed in the officer's affidavit. Uhm, and no contact with, uh, Bridget Valenzuela (phonetically spelled as heard). That she not possess any, uhm, weapons, obey all laws and appear at all future hearings. THE COURT: Oh we'll, we'll be adding, uhm, recommendations. Is there anything further? UNIDENTIFIED FEMALE: No, Your Honor. THE COURT: I'11 transfer that (inaudible). THE COURT ...appears vid--, vi--, via video conference. This is the pre-trial hearing in this matter. And Ms. Miranda, I will advise you of your rights. You have the right to remain silent. Anything you say may be used against you. You have the right to legal counsel at your own expense. You have the right to a hearing and to a jury hearing. You have the right to cross examine the witnesses, and (inaudible) about the Tribe and the right to examine witnesses in advantage on your behalf. You have the right to know the allegations against you, and you have the right to appeal to the Pascua Yaqui Court of Appeals. Do you understand your rights?

MS. MIRANDA:

Yes.

THE COURT: Okay. And are there any motions to be presented to the Court today?

MR. OSBORN: Yes, Your Honor. Uh, the Defendant and, uh, Tribe have come to an agreement, and we, uh, ask to have a plea agreement hearing set, uh, on a particular date. Uh, that is, uh, on May 23rd, 2008. And the reason for that is that that would be, uh, uh, after one hundred and eighteen days of her sentence. And also, Your Honor, I'm asking to, uh, uh, because of the, uh, hundred and twentieth day ended on a Sunday, we're asking

 $1 \|$ to have, uh, the agreement, uh, we're going to modify that to be a hundred and eighteen days instead of a hundred and twenty days. 2 So, but at this time we do ask to have the, the plea agreement hearing to be the, uh, so that she be present in person, uh, on, 4 uh, May 23rd, uh, 2008. 5 6 THE COURT: However, the plea agreement was just filed today. I haven't had a chance for probation to review 7 8 it. I haven't reviewed it, so I will set this matter for a trial 9 and, uh, uh, you can file an amended plea agreement, and his, the 10 probation officer will have to be here. 11 Your Honor, in that case, we would MR. OSBORN: 12 ask to have, uhm, the trial set for, uh, May 23rd, 2008, uh, and, 13 uh, I believe that, uh, the Defendant would not have, have any problem with that, as that would be, uh, able to facilitate, uh, 14 15 the schedule. We, uh, do anticipate handling this this way, just, 16 just to make it easier on the Court's schedule and, 17 calendaring. 18 THE COURT: I don't know what the calendar 19 looks like, but I will ask for the next trial date. 20 MS. MIRANDA: Because the ninety days 21 expires May 4th. 22 THE COURT: Okay. 23 MR. OSBORN: So Your Honor, uh, I guess the question is would the Defendant object to that, uh, Your Honor, 24 25 should, Ms. Miranda do you so stipulate to that? 26 THE COURT: Well hold on, you're not supposed 27 28

to be questioning the Defendant.
 2
             MR. OSBORN:
                                 Yeah.
 3
             THE COURT:
                                  Uhm, she has timeliness in this matter, so we have to following the timeliness in this matter.
4
 5
             MR. OSBORN:
                                 Well we understand, Your Honor, but it, it works to her advantage to have this set up this particular 6
7
   time so we can have her brought here in person on that date, uh, 8
    'cause -- 9
                                  Well she would have to appear
             THE COURT:
10
   either way for sentencing because it's a plea agreement, she would 11
   have to appear. Okay do you have a date and time?
12
             UNIDENTIFIED FEMALE: April 21st, at 10:00 a.m.
13
             THE COURT:
                                 Trial is scheduled for April 21st,
   2008, at 10:00 in the morning. And the, uh, Court will, uh, if 14 approved by the Probation Department, The Court, uh, will hear the 15
   plea agreement at that time or we will proceed to the trial. And,
16
17
   any recommendations on conditions of release?
18
             MR. OSBORN:
                                  That they stay
                                                    the
                                                                 Your 19
   Honor.
20
             THE COURT:
                                  Ms. Miranda, do you have anything to say in regarding the, uh, recommendation for release if they 21
22
   remain the same?
23
             MS. MIRANDA:
                                       Uhm, no.
24
             THE COURT:
                                        At this time, the, uh, you
                                 No?
   will remain detained on the two, you post bond on fifteen hundred 26
   dollars, uh, prior to release, and all the conditions of re--, release will apply. And Ms. Miranda, do you have any questions?

2
             MS. MIRANDA:
                                      Uhm, no. Not as far as, uh,
3
   this case, but I do have some questions though. Well, uh, about 4
   my probation I was on, uhm--
5
             THE COURT:
                                         Now that's another matter
                                 Okay.
6 and I don't have that file before me, and you will need to speak
7
   with your probation officer.
8
             MS. MIRANDA:
                                      Alright. Okay.
9
             THE COURT:
                                 Okay. Do you have further?
10
             MR. OSBORN:
                                 Just transport, Your Honor.
11
             THE COURT:
                                 Uhm, Defendant will be transported
12 in (inaudible) rule on this matter.
